

Hello,

I'm Bert. I'm amiable, grounded, down-to-earth, and easy to work with.

With experience in eight design disciplines across thirty-five industries, I can foresee project challenges before they happen, allowing for proactive problem-solving and resource savings.

I thrive in environments filled with ambiguity and surprises. I handle multiple projects while maintaining composure and professionalism under deadlines — as lead and solo designer on some, if not all.

My approach to all design is grounded in teamwork and collaboration, and I tailor my creative process to fit project constraints related to budget, time, and resources.

Let's connect to discuss your needs in more depth.

Be well,

Bert
